LOCAL JOTTINGS.

The Public Schools will reopen next Wednesday, January 4.

Frank Leobold, of Norwalk, Conn., is visiting his mother on New Street.

The Fire Committee held an important meeting on Friday night of last week.

The "Sons of Rest," living east of the Morris Canal have gone to work for the winter.

Henry Meuser of Easton, Pa., is visiting his uncle on Forest Avenue during the holidays.

Hebry Jaekel of No. 251 Broad Street has moved to Newark where he is engaged in the hotel business.

Samuel Westervelt of Washington Avenue has gone to Bernardsville, where he is employed by Contractor George Riker.

William R. Courter, proprietor of the American House, has issued a neat calendar for 1893, giving a fine view of the building.

A good likeness of Frank Eveland, formerly of this place, but now of Jersey City, appeared in last Sunday's New York Recorder.

The engagement is announced of Mrs. Bertha Baum, the matron of the poor house at Brookdale, to a well-known young man of New York City.

The Young Men's Republican Club anticipate a very successful entertainment in the Westminster Church chapel on the evening of January 18.

Through the kindness of Mr. William A. Freeman, jr., in having had the snow scraped off the ice, good skating was enjoyed by a large number of young people on Oakes's Pond on Christmas.

A. O. Hardy, the superintendent of the Bloomfield Avenue division of the New Jersey Traction Company's system of street railways, was presented with a handsome gold watch on Christmas by the employees.

Mr. H. H. Ragan's lecture, January 11th, is the fourth "Star Course" attraction. This visit is Mr. Ragan's twelfth to Bloomfield. "Shakespeare and the Avon," illustrated by about ninety views, will be the subject.

The Newark City Ice Company have leased Oakes's pond and began cutting ice on Thursday afternoon. The ice was nine and one-half inches thick and clear as crystal. This will interfere with skating for a short time.

John Hummel, son of Town Committee man Martin Hummel, has purchased a meat market in Harrison. He will open for business next week. His numerous Bloomfield friends wish him success in his new venture.

Our friends in Montclair are to be congratulated as the Entertainment Committee of the Montclair Club has engaged Mr. H. H. Ragan, through his manager, Mr. J. S. Vale, for a course of his famous illustrated lectures. The first one is fixed for January 14 in the Montclair Club Hall.

Watessing Notes.

Janitor Charles Provost received a substantial present from the Berean Baptist Sunday-school at the Christmas festival in Temperance Hall on Wednesday night.

There was a very large audience in St. Paul's Church on Wednesday night at the Christmas exercises. A large number of handsome presents were given out. Choirmaster Williams received a very handsome present from the choir.

At the Christmas entertainment of the Watessing M. E. Church on Monday night choirmaster William Ellor received a handsome testimonial from the congregation of the church, in appreciation of his many years' service in conducting the music at the church.

John Hopkin of Orange, a laborer employed in the construction of the new factory for John Wiggins, fell from the scaffolding on Tuesday and sustained serious injuries. Bones were broken in both of his feet and a piece of timber fell across his back, injuring him internally.

Walter Sealey, who impersonated Santa Claus at the Bethel Church Sunday-school Christmas celebration on Wednesday night, had a narrow escape from serious injury by fire. The costume that he wore ignited. Some of the spectators quickly ran to his aid and extinguished the flames.

Geo. M. Wood has for sale Grandmother's Compound Herb Tea for coughs, colds, constipation, and liver troubles. Try it 25c.—Advt.

At the Glen Ridge Club.

The children's dance last evening was a most enjoyable affair both for the little participants, and the older spectators. The dancing began at five o'clock and ended at nine o'clock for the youngsters, but the "children of an older growth" kept it up until a much later hour. A special feature of the affair was the appearance between the dances of a little eight-year-old professional, Miss Edna Hackes Springer, in recitations, fancy dances, etc. This little lady scored a pronounced success. An ample lunch was served the children at 6 o'clock. The committee of arrangements was Mrs. Nevius, Mrs. Osmun, Mrs. Rudd, and Mrs. Davis.

The next entertainment at the Club House will occur Monday evening, January 2nd, when two short plays will be presented by some of the ladies and gentlemen of the club; the first will be "My Uncle's Will," with the following cast: Miss Florence Marigold, a young lady, Mr. Harry E. Richards, banker and elderly relative, Mr. Upson; Mr. Charles Cashmore, Florence Marigold's lover, Mr. Gallagher. The second is entitled, "A Box of Monkeys," and the cast is Mrs. Ondego Jones, a New York society woman, Miss Northall; Miss Bengaline, a Western belle, Mrs. Hammond; Miss Gulnevere Landpoor, a young lady of the English aristocracy, Miss Fireng; Ted, a young Westerner, Miss Bengaline's lover, Dr. Nelson Chitterling; Chauncey Oglethorpe, a young English aristocrat, Miss Gulnevere's lover, Mr. Skelding. These plays have been very carefully prepared, and give promise of being exceedingly entertaining.

Marriage of Edward C. Oliver.

Edward C. Oliver of this place and Miss Sallie Hooe of Montclair were united in marriage at the home of James Sisco on Orange Road on Thursday night, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Dr. Hubbell of the Montclair Baptist Church. The bridesmaid was Miss Sophie Burroughs and the best man Theodore F. Oliver, a brother of the groom. The bride was attired in a dress of white surah and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The wedding march was played by Miss Gertrude Jones. Many handsome presents were received by the happy couple. A large number of guests were present from Brooklyn, New York, and Lowden County, Virginia. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver will take up their residence at No. 24 Broad Street.

Will Employ a Private Watchman.

The Glen Ridge people are much startled over the bold robberies occurring in that locality of late. It is thought that a "fence" is located somewhere in town where the goods are taken and stored until it is safe to dispose of them. It is probable that a competent private watchman will be hired to patrol the streets and prevent the depredations of the rascals.

Will Open a New Series.

Next Wednesday evening the annual meeting of the Bloomfield Building and Loan Association will be held in their rooms on Broad Street, when officers will be elected and the annual report submitted. A new series of stock will also be opened.

The Newark Bee Hive will remain closed New Year's day (Monday).

Unloading Sale!

Extraordinary Bargains in OVERCOATS.

We have no desire to carry over to next season, and therefore will cut prices at once rather than wait until January, as we have too much stock on account of the backward season. Overcoats of our own make reduced 15, 20, 25, 30 and 40 per cent.

The prices are spellbinders; we intend them to be. We've got to get this unloading sale over quick. The stiffer the winter gets the less we feel like selling these goods without profit. It's an unloading sale that will have a long memory and help to make an easy comfortable winter for you and thousands besides.
